A COMPREHENSIVE ONLINE RESOURCE ADDRESSING GROWING ENVIRONMENTAL CONCERNS

Now you can provide environmentalists, policy makers, corporate researchers, educators, students, geologists, engineers and more with a comprehensive, easy-to-access, online resource that answers all their environmentally-related inquires. Questions like:

✔ Could the Amazon be lost within a few decades?
✔ How will urban trees be affected by a city’s roadwork activities?
✔ Does greener mean healthier?
✔ What are the current EPA standards for airborne lead?
✔ Has the spotted owl population increased in recent years?
✔ Do plans for natural gas resource development fall in line with the state’s environmental laws and regulations?

Powered by InfoTrac, Environmental Studies & Policy Collection brings together full-text information found in more than 700 journals and reference content from Delmar, part of Cengage Learning.
